Good War Curb

The other day The Star got a pasteboard box through the mails. The box was empty, and of course we referred the matter back to the post office. But the mystery was cleared up shortly when one of our correspondents wrote us that—

She gave a letter containing her newspaper article to a friend to mail. The friend forgot to get it to the neighboring town's post office in time to catch the last letter-carrying mail train that night. Next morning there was a fast huddle about what to do.

Somebody thought up a new postal trick. The next letter-carrying mail train, No. 7, would not arrive in Hope until 1:50 p. m., too late to catch The Star's edition. An earlier train, No. 17, arrives here at 11:45 a. m., but it carries only parcels—no letters.

Result: They took up an empty box, tied it with string, stamped it and attached the letter-mail to the box. The other town's post office took a long look at the outfit. It was a letter, but it was a parcel, too—and so it went on No. 17 and got here at 11:45, in time for the edition.

But somewhere in the deal the box and the letter got separated and so we had a mystery... and the final disclosure that Americans in a pinch are resourceful and inventive.

The people have it in their own power, of course, to stave off wartime rationing and price control. All they need to do is exercise self-discipline and a Christian regard for the other fellow by not grabbing more store-bought articles than they actually need, so the supply will go 'round for everyone.

But failing this, the government will have to take action.

Rationing and price control work no better in time of war than liquor prohibition works in peacetime. It's tough to have to suggest it, but the truth is that the most effective of all wartime emergency measures is a very high personal income tax rate. If the government takes enough money away from the people they don't have very much left with which to play the markets black and gray.

And that's the truth about our brother-loving Christian America.

Australia Recruiting for War

Sydney, Australia, July 27 (AP)—Supply Minister O. H. Beale said today Australia must mobilize her industry for all-out war—even as the country began recruiting a force to fight in Korea.

Beale told a defense supply and planning committee in Melbourne that its job is to build a stock pile of needed materials to bolster the armed forces and to plan the immediate mobilization of key industries in the event of war.

Australia began recruiting a fighting unit for Korean duty this morning.

Army and Navy Minister Josiah Francis said about 100 men had applied in Sydney during the first few hours. He said most of them want to go into action immediately.

A high army officer said he thought the force the government required would be recruited within a few days.

Francis said the Australian force probably will comprise a division, but added that this would depend on Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, who arrives today in the United States to confer with President Truman.

Since New Zealand already has announced she will provide an artillery unit, Francis said Australia's contribution probably will consist mainly of infantrymen.

A dispatch from Canberra said most of the Australian force sent to Korea would be World War II veterans so that the force could be sent to the front as soon as possible.

Francis said more Australian naval units probably will be sent to Korea also.

Explosion in N. Y. Strike Leads to Different Stories

New York, July 27 (AP)—A missile described by the CIO American Newspaper Guild as firecrackers and by management of the New York World Telegram and Sun as a home-made incendiary device—exploded outside the struck afternoon newspaper plant today.

Members of the guild have been on strike over wages and other contract benefits since June 13. Union mechanical employees declined to cross picket lines and the big afternoon daily has not published since that time.

Counsel for Negro Beaten Up, They Say

Jackson, Miss., July 27 (AP)—Northern defenders of a convicted negro rapist who was to have died today in the electric chair charged they were set upon and manhandled by mobs here.

Mississippi officials countered with the assertion that Communists provoked the incidents for propaganda.

Mid-between these charges and counter charges was 37-year-old Willie McGee, who was convicted three times for raping a white woman in 1945 and who yesterday was granted a stay of execution by Justice Harold Burton of the United States Supreme court.

The Negro's third conviction was affirmed by the state Supreme court and the United States high court refused to review the case.

Two previous convictions had been reversed by the Mississippi Supreme court on legal technicalities. Burton explained that he was not criticizing any court, but that "justice can best be served by granting a stay."

Two members of a delegation which came here to plead with Gov. Fielding Wright for executive clemency for McGee, and a reporter from New York said they were beaten.

Aubrey Grossman, organization secretary for the Civil Rights congress of New York, which the justice department has listed as a Communist group, said that soon after the stay was granted he was beaten in his hotel room.

Grossman and his congress hndi Steve Fischer, a reporter for the New York Daily Ompass, told reporters that about 20 men assaulted him and that he "got slugged pretty hard."

Another member of the delegation, radio commentator Sidney Ordover, of Chicago, said he suffered lacerations and bruises when about 15 men attacked him at the Jackson airport.

U. S. Berlin Troops' Leave Cancelled

Heidelberg, Germany, July 27 (AP)—U. S. army headquarters European command announced today it had frozen all enlisted and officer personnel in Europe for six months, beginning August 31. This means that all home leaves are cancelled after Aug. 31.

The army announcement said: "Normal foreign service tours of all personnel in the U. S. army, in Europe, and of all those who have voluntarily extended their tours of duty in the European command have been extended for six months, effective Aug. 31."

"The extension applies to officers and enlisted men.

Orders which have been issued for rotation of personnel scheduled to leave the European command after Aug. 31 have been revoked.

"Cases of undue hardship as a result of this policy will be reported to U. S. army headquarters in Europe."

Army authorities at headquarters here declined to elaborate on the official announcement. They said the order came from Washington and that their job is to carry it out.

America army troop strength in Europe is about 110,000.

There was no indication immediately that the U. S. air force in Europe was taking a similar step. The United States maintains only a token naval force in Germany, but a sizable one in the Mediterranean.

Honorary pallbearers are Grady Hairston Alec Purtle, Walter Frith, Wade Warren, John Turner, Robert LaGrone, O. A. Graves Gib Lewis, Chester Andrews, Travis McLaughlin, Bill Yocom, and John Clark.

No Time to Talk About Peace, Says the President

Washington, July 27 (AP)—President Truman said today talk of peace prospects had better await a few more developments.

He was reminded at a news conference that a short time ago he had said the outlook for peace was better than it had been at any time since 1945.

Mr. Truman said he had no comment to make on peace prospects now, that we had better wait for a few more developments.

In response to another question Mr. Truman said he sees no possibility that he will get out of Washington at any time in the near future. He said he is staying on the job and doing everything he can.

Gov. McMath 'Called Shot' on the Vote

Little Rock, July 27 (AP)—Governor McMath proved himself something of a prophet in his second-term renomination.

Several weeks ago the governor predicted he would win in Tuesday's preferential Democratic primary by 100,000 votes.

Actually he didn't make it by 100,000, but he came mighty close.

On the basis of latest unofficial returns, with all but 66 of the state's 2,237 precincts reported, he was more than 93,000 votes ahead of his nearest rival, former Gov. Ben Laney.

With a record-breaking total of some 320,000 votes cast, McMath had 204,410 Laney 110,938 J. L. Harris 4,100, and M. G. Bankson 1,476.

Some of the missing 66 precincts in virtually every election there probably won't be heard from.

In virtually every election there are some small rural precincts in which no balloting takes place.

So the latest figures probably will be just about as good as can be arrived at until the official totals are certified by county Democratic committees.

Battles for two Supreme court justiceship nominations are the only statewide races which will go into a run-off in the second primary on Aug. 8.

Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon renomination won by a sizeable majority over three opponents. All other incumbent state office holders whose terms are expiring are unopposed for renomination at the second primary.

Sam Robinson and Leflet Gentry, both of Little Rock, contest in the run-off for nomination to the supreme court seat formerly held by the late R. W. Robins. Three others were eliminated in Tuesday's balloting.

Chancellor Paul Ward of Batesville and R. B. McCulloch of Forrest City are candidates in the other run-off. They seek the position formerly held by retired Justice Frank G. Smith. P. L. Smith of Antoine was eliminated.

A run-off between the two highest men becomes necessary when no candidates in a field of three or more receives a majority of all votes cast.

Seventh District Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado won renomination in the only congressional race. With only one precinct unreported in the 11-county district, he held a good majority over two opponents.

Air Force Groups to Rise to 58

Washington, July 27 (AP)—The air force is increasing its strength from 48 groups to 58 within 12 months and to 69 groups by January, 1953, Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) announced today.

The air force is beginning immediately to step up officers and men to a target of 548,311.

This is an increase of 136,311 over his strength on June 30, said Vinson, the chairman of the house armed services committee.

The increase in group and personnel strength is made possible through the air force's allotment of $4,535,500,000 of President Truman's emergency additional budget request of $10,500,000,000.

Cemetery Cleaning Water Creek Church will have a cemetery cleaning on Wednesday, August 2. Those who are interested are urged to come and bring tools to clean the yard. Those who are unable to come and work are asked to send donations to Mrs. J. A. Biddle, Hope, Route 4.

Congress Not Yet 'Sold' on Mobilization

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Congress seemed divided today over whether there should be all-out mobilization of the U. S. home front—with most members apparently against such a move right now.

Hard on the heels of Bernard M. Baruch's proposal for an immediate "ceiling" on everything, some lawmakers called for full-scale economic mobilization, complete with consumer rationing and wage-price controls.

Baruch, venerable presidential and congressional adviser, criticized President Truman and congress yesterday, saying they have not moved far enough or fast enough to get the nation ready for a finish-fight against communism.

Bluntly he said all-out controls must be clamped on—and the sooner, the easier for the American people.

While most congressional leaders shied away from the Baruch proposal, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) told a reporter he would ask the senate banking committee to consider it fully.

Baruch, who has been an economic mobilization adviser in two world wars, made his proposal mmmbefore the banking committee while testifying on President Truman's bill for partial mobilization to meet the needs of the Korean war and any other crisis which might arise.

A barrage of questions hurled at Baruch made it obvious that most committee members did not think highly of his suggestion. But Sparkman said the Baruch proposal must be taken seriously.

In other developments:

1. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) announced that a committee of GOP senators from the banking, finance and armed services committees would begin drafting today proposed amendments to curtail some of the administration's bill for production and credit controls.

Taft said that controls voted now might turn out to be permanent and congress should move cautiously. Taft also forecast a 10-year preparedness program costing at least $100,000,000,000 and renewed his call for heavy taxes as an alternative to controls.

2. The senate unanimously passed a bill removing all limits on the size of the armed forces until July 31, 1954. The house had passed the bill without any time limit and now the two versions must be reconciled.

Senator Crow Announces for Re-election

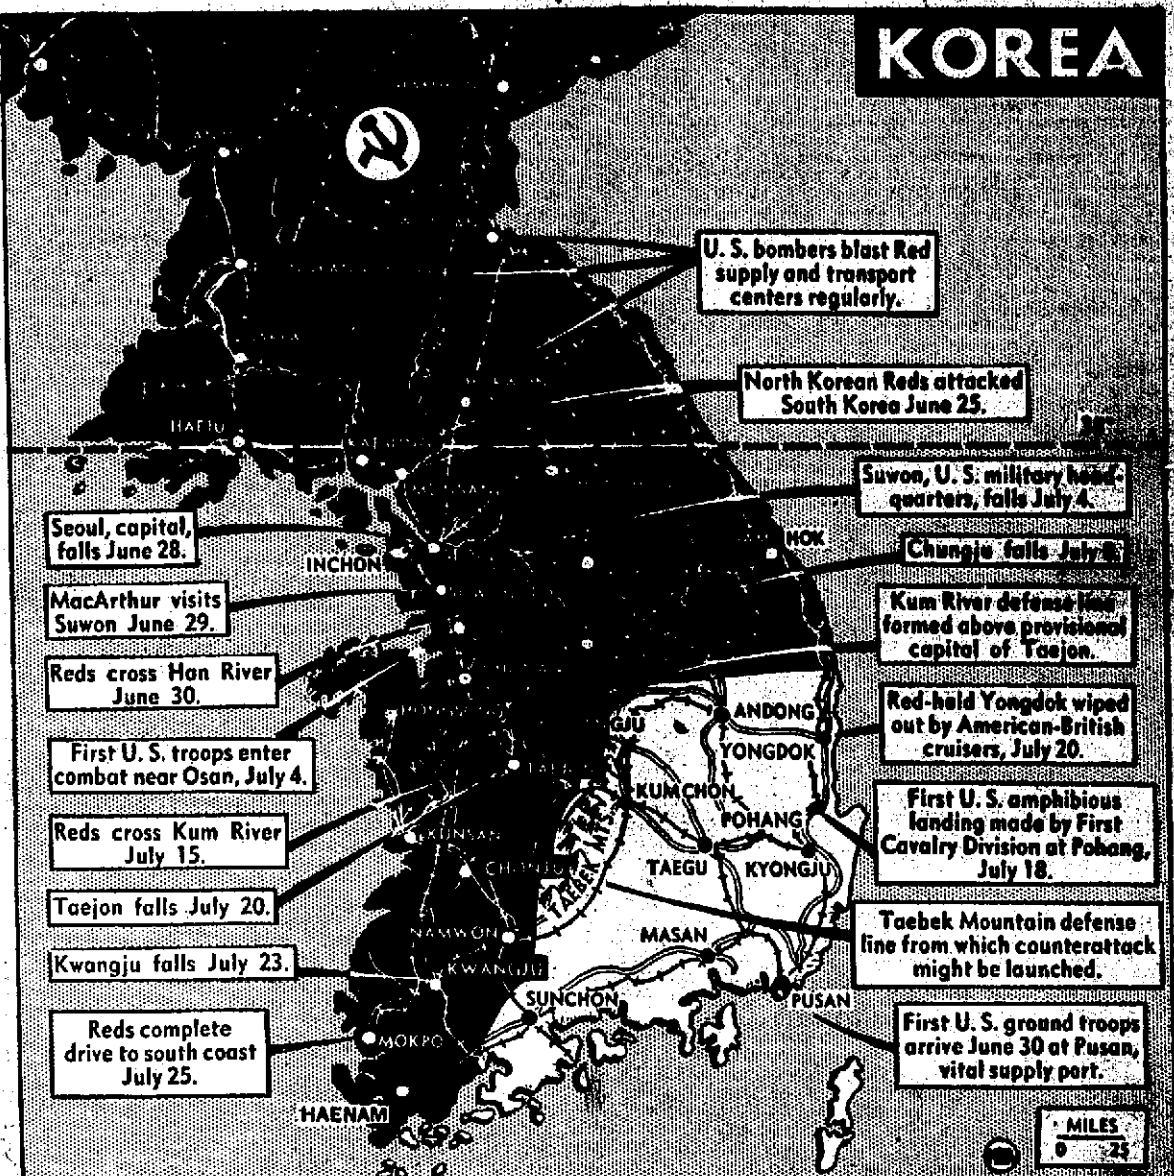

Dr. F. C. Crow today made the following statement on his candidacy for state senator in the Ninth Senatorial District:

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the State Senate the thought races through my mind of how wonderful the citizens of our Senatorial District are to work for and of how appreciative American people are of a public official that really takes his job seriously and tries to render a creditable public service.

You citizens of the 9th Senatorial District have been wonderful to me and I have received great joy and inspiration from having had the honor and privilege of working for you a term as your State Senator.

Slight Rise in Polio Cases for Entire Country

Washington, July 27 (AP)—There were 844 new cases of poliomyelitis last week, the public health service said today.

During the preceding week there were 664 new cases. The weekly totals have been rising steadily since the week ending May 27, during which 192 new cases were reported.

For the past week, the largest numbers of new cases were in Texas, 11.

Pilkinton's Opponent Not Yet Settled

Little Rock, July 27 (AP)—State Senator Ernest Maner of Benton apparently won nomination as circuit judge of the seventh district in Tuesday's preferential democratic primary.

Unofficial returns gave him a majority over J. C. Cole, Malvern, and Sam Byrd Puckett, who withdrew from the race too late to have his name eliminated from the ballot.

Maner would succeed Judge Roy Danuser, who is serving by appointment and was ineligible to be a candidate for an elective term.

The seventh district is composed of Saline, Green and Hot Spring counties.

In the recently-created second division of the sixth chancery district, James H. Pilkinton of Hope led for the chancellor's nomination by some 4,000 votes. But his two opponents, J. E. Still of Arkadelphia and Byron Goodson of De Queen, were so close together it wasn't certain which would oppose him in the run-off at the second Democratic primary Aug. 8.

Pilkinton lacked a majority, making the run-off necessary.

Outcome of other court contests included (where one is named, he is the apparent nominee where two are named they will be in the Aug. 8 runoff):

Third district, Millard Hardin, Newport fourteenth district, Woody Murray and Ernie Rush, both of Harrison eighteenth district, Curtis Ridgway and incumbent Judge Clyde H. Brown, both of Hot Springs.

Prosecuting attorneys—First district, Lloyd Henry, Augusta fourth district, Prosecutor Ted Coxsey, Berryville sixth district, Tom Downie, Little Rock seventh district, Joe W. McCoy of Malvern, and Ben McCray of Benton eighth district, G. W. Looka-doo of Arkadelphia and Charles W. Hackett of Texarkana tenth district, A. James Linder of Hamburg and incumbent John F. Gibson.

After One Month of War —

Hard-driving North Korean troops over-ran two-thirds of the territory of South Korea in the first month of war. The Newsmen above shows high points of the action which began with a Communist strike across the 38th parallel on June 25. As the war enters its second month, the major question is whether the American and South Korean forces can hold the line and prevent the North Korean drive to arrive and give enough power to launch a counterattack.

Approaching Aid by Ground Troops of Other Countries Bolsters U. S. in Korea War

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Reporter

Washington, July 27 (AP)—An announcement that Britain is sending, and other United Nations countries may send, ground troops to Korea comes in one of the darkest hours of American military history.

What American military men want now are more combat-ready troops—quickly, urgently. How quickly? There are no firm estimates now, but the next two or three weeks can be highly critical.

United States army troops fighting the Red invaders of the Republic of Korea do not yet have their backs to the wall—but the room is getting alarmingly smaller. In the strategy of trading space for time, they are running low on both commodities.

The British government's announcement that it is sending to Korea a regular army combat group including artillery and armor, reached Washington at a time when Pentagon officials were growing increasingly concerned about help from United Nations members.

Reinforcements from the United States are on the way—2nd army division troops, First marine division fighters—but some Pentagon officials make it plain this can't be enough.

More fighting manpower is needed not only to bolster the battered American army troops and help them hold the diminishing perimeter, but to allow soldiers exhausted by weeks of unrelieved combat to rest.

Pentagon leaders prefer that any troops units contributed to the United Nations campaign in Korea be in organizations of not less than 1,000 men, trained, equipped and supplied for initial fighting. Later, the Far East command of the United States can provide the supplies, but it is desired that when ground forces land in the war zone they be ready to go into action quickly with their own equipment and field supplies.

The London announcement did not specify the size of the combat group to be sent, but it apparently would be substantially more than the 1,000-man minimum. London news dispatches speculated that it might range from a battalion to a brigade, from 1,000 to 5,000 men.

There was other help in the offing, including the announcements of two British commonwealth countries, Australia and New Zealand, that they will send land forces. Turkey already has offered 4,500 trained combat troops.

It is the combat-wide veteran units that could be of special value in Korea if they could be landed there soon.

The Pentagon looked sadly on the departure from the eastern hemisphere of Holland's colonial army. Units of the Royal Netherlands Indies army were getting ready yesterday to pull out of Indonesia, headed for home.

Today, speaking of the North Korean forces, MacArthur elaborated:

"That does not mean the story passes to us instantly, but out a long hard row, and the

26 Believed Lost in Jap Sea Crash

Tokyo, July 27 (AP)—A C. transport plane with 26 persons aboard believed to include four war correspondents—plunged into the sea today 10 miles south of Japan's Oshima island.

General MacArthur's headquarters announcement of the ditching said one survivor was picked up, and others are being sought.

The four war correspondents left the Tokyo correspondents club for Korea early Thursday. They were identified in an unofficial list as: James O. Supple, Chicago Sun Times; Maximilian Philonenko, Agence France Presse; Stephen Simmons, Hilton Press and London Picture Post; and Albert Hinton, who represented the Norfolk Journal and several other Negro newspapers.

The plane was a regular courier plane bound for Kyushu. It left Haneda airport at 4:05 a. m. (1:05 p. m. Wednesday ST).

There were 23 passengers and three crewmen on board. Headquarters said the Third air rescue squadron has been alerted for a search.

A U. S. Air Force officer today made his second trip to the Korean war zone, broadest combat zone in the world.

After completing his first tour of duty, he was now on his second.

The United Nations returned to Tokyo today. MacArthur's flight to Korea was completely successful. He was accompanied by a small "select group" of officers.

There was no word to the press as to his flight to the front on the secret trip when he took his plane. He was wearing familiar cap and uniform. His corn/cub pipe was in his teeth. He was quickly recognized.

He conferred with his ranking officers on the spot, the Eighth army conducting ground campaign, and of the advanced headquarters of the east air forces recently moved Korea from southern Japan.

There was speculation that level strategy decisions reached.

Allen Quits Arkansas College

Batesville, July 27 (AP) — John Spragins, president of Arkansas college, announced today the resignation of Carl Allen as assistant athletic coach.

Allen who served last term as assistant to head coach Marcus Kaufman in football and basketball and served as coach of the baseball team, will become associated with Lowe and Campbell of St. Louis, a sporting goods firm.

Dr. Spragins said he did not have a successor to Allen, as his decision to resign came as a surprise to him.

Allen was a army air corps pilot during World War Two. He was a backfield star at Ouachita college before he entered service and later at Oklahoma City university.

He played professional football with the Brooklyn Dodgers one year.

last night. They arrived here Monday.

Meanwhile, Emanuel H. Block of New Orleans, one of McGee's attorneys but not a member of the Civil Rights congress, declared that "the state of Mississippi lives under a reign of terror."

A prepared statement by Governor Wright, Chief Justice Harvey McGee of the Mississippi Supreme court, and Atty. Gen. John L. Kyle, countered with the assertion that the incidents involving the members of the civil rights congress were "provoked for their propaganda effect."

Furthermore, the statement said, Grossman at Tuesday's clemency hearing "insulted every tradition of the South, every court, every judge and every officer of the state of Mississippi. He did it deliberately, provokingly."

The attacks upon the members of the delegation were being thoroughly investigated, the three officials added.

difficult struggle. That we will have new heartaches and new setbacks is inherent in the situation, but I was never more confident of victory — ultimate victory — in my life than I am now."

Tokyo, Friday, July 23 (AP) — North Korean troops and armor massed by night Thursday for an attempted knockout blow in the center of American defense lines.

General MacArthur's headquarters in a release early today said there was a lull along the whole battlefield, but that enemy pressure continued in such a way as to regrouping and remassing for a new assault.

MacArthur returned to Tokyo Thursday from a swift inspection tour of the Korean warfront. He was confident of ultimate victory but foresaw a long and difficult struggle ahead.

Headquarters said "aggressive patrols" in the southwest sector had pushed back a Korean Red column two miles to the vicinity of Hadong, 70 miles northwest of Pusan.

Two other holes were plugged on the approaches to Pusan — major American supply port. Other patrols moved into the highway town of Hamyang 78 miles northwest of Pusan and made contact with an enemy regiment in Namwon, about 22 miles southwest of Hamyang, headquarters said.

Identity of the patrols was not made known, but it was in this small numbers of fresh American area yesterday that relatively small numbers of fresh American troops were reported in action.

sand dollars ($135,000.00) coming into our district as premium and building funds for the livestock industry. The Livestock Association Board of directors has wisely invested these funds in our district in a way that the benefits can truly be counted.

It was through exertion of energetic pressure that resulted in the One Hundred, Nine Thousand and Seven Hundred and Fifty-four Dollars and Seventy-eight cents ($109,754.78) being spent for constructing buildings for the National Guard in Hope. In addition to this such building program stimulated the National Guard enlistments to such an extent that there has been an increase in the National Guard payroll which is spent every month in our district.

I hasten to add that I have not at all times voted on the popular or winning side. For instance I voted against the increase in State Income Tax and I opposed the bill the purpose of which was to double the tax on the privilege of being an automobile operator.

It is my desire and ambition to make for you my fellow Americans the best State Senator possible for one to be and this I pledge an effort to be if you again honor me with your vote and say to your neighbor "Crow has done a good job and with experience and seniority he will make for us a Senator we will truly be proud of — we can't afford to take a chance on making a change."

DR. F. C. CROW

The situation in the center of the line appeared menacing even through headquarters reported "no major or decisive action" took place in the preceding 24 hours.

From the front Associated Press Correspondent William R. Moore reported three large Communist columns were concentrating east of Yongdong in front of the U. S. First cavalry.

A spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo said two of the Reds three best divisions — the second and third — are massed in that sector.

From a forward post with the American Artillery has opened a thundering bombardment of Communist infantry concentrations.

The air force sent swarms of jets and Mustangs over the rear spewing rockets into Red lines and pouring fire into the advancing troops.

Fifteen miles northeast of Yongdong at Maromyn, the 24th regimental combat team, the only Negro combat unit identified in the Korean campaign, beat off a Communist attack late yesterday.

The combat team, attached to the U. S. 25th division, is in the defense line that swings northeastward of Yongdong.

To the east in the 200 mile battlefront arc South Koreans attacked the Reds. At Hamchang they drove forward seven miles aided by American planes. On the east coast they advanced on Yongdok with land artillery and naval guns supporting them.

Between the planes and South

Koreans using bazookas, six enemy tanks were knocked out in the hot hot action; which may be the prelude to what appears to be the biggest battle of the Korean war.

A curtain of U. S. artillery fire met the attacking Reds, who aimed their attack at vital supply lines on the road to Pusan, U. S.

supply port of the southeast coast 90 miles from Yongdok. There had been no report from the Hadong area in Red held U. S. troops were described as southwest Korea, where fresh U. S. troops were described as ready to retake the city once it stops burning. Planes set it afire yesterday.

A Communist radio broadcast from Ypyongyang, capital of North Korea, claimed a U. S. warship was sunk off Yosu, in southern Korea, by coastal batteries. The radio said the Reds captured Yosu and Suncheon on the south coast inflicting more casualties on the defenders of the two cities.

To My Friends in Hempstead County:

Please accept my sincere thanks for your vote of confidence and for your loyal support. Your continued and active support will assured us of a decisive victory at the polls on August 8.

Sorority Meeting

Officers and members of Alpha Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Tuesday night at the City hall with Miss Betty Babb vice-president presiding.

During the evening plans were made for the organization of Nu Phi Mu, a junior affiliate sorority for girls 16 to 21 years of age.

Mrs. Minnie Vance, international representative from Nu Phi Mu headquarters in Kansas City, met with the group and outlined the purpose, history, ideals and traditions of the non-academic social, service, educational and cultural sorority, which has at its olivating force Friendship.

The representative said the purpose of the organization is to give young girls an opportunity "to learn something of the fine arts, to learn the joy of serving others and to have fun." The program includes hobbies, social life, service work, cultural lore, charm and poise, she stated.

Meetings of Nu Phi Mu are held twice each month with a Beta Sigma Phi advisor present at all meetings and participating in all activities. Upon reaching the age of 21 the girls may transfer to the senior sorority.

Coming and Going

Miss Norma Jean Archer left Wednesday for Chicago where she will attend the wedding of her sorority mother, Miss Virginia Archibald, and Gordon Armstrong. From Chicago, she will go to Milwaukee, Wis., to attend the 22nd National Conference of the National Honorary Music Sorority, Delta Omicron. Miss Archer is president of Delta Omicron of Northwestern University and will represent her chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark M. Buchanan of Cocoa Fla. have arrived for a visit with his mother Mrs. Marion Buchanan and his grandmother Mrs. Mark M. Smyth.

Personal Mention

Friends of Shirley Sinclair will be happy to know she is doing nicely after undergoing surgery at the Children's Home & Hospital in Little Rock.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Grisham of this city are the maternal grandparents of a grandson born Thursday July 27.

Budget Next Concern of Gov. McMath

Little Rock, July 27 (P)—Governor McMath said today the chief problem of his next two and a half years' administration would be the state budget.

He said Comptroller Lee Roy Beasley and the Arkansas legislative council are working with him in making a study of anticipated budget problems.

Declining revenues in the past year were indicated as the chief source of the problem. Earlier this year Governor McMath asked that all departments, agencies and institutions voluntarily cut their budgets by five per cent.

Today, he said it would be likely that further efforts of saving would be necessary to continue his administrative program at its present level.

Governor McMath said his program for the next two and a half years would be an extension and further development of his present program. He said this includes roads, schools and his industrial program to bring more out-of-state business to Arkansas and develop home industry.

In addition, he said he planned and extensive promotion job to get visitors and tourists to Arkansas.

Clubs

Liberty Hill

The Liberty Hill Home Demonstration Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. E. Hucabee.

Due to the absence of the home agent and the clothing leader who would have had charge of the program, the demonstration on cleaning the sewing machine was omitted.

The president Mrs. Ivan Williams presided during the business session of the meeting. Reports were given by the garden and poultry leaders.

During the recreation period, the surprise package was won by Mrs. Lester Beckham. Other prizes in a quiz contest were won by Mrs. Glenden Williams and Mrs. S. C. Hucabee.

The hostess served refreshments to 17 members and one visitor, Miss Vera Williams.

The August meeting will be held Fair Park at 11 with each member bringing a picnic lunch.

The Home Demonstration Clubs of the north end of the county will sponsor a cake walk. Friday night, July 28, at the Experiment Station beginning at 7:45 P. M. Following the cake walk folk games will be played and other entertainment will be provided. All Home Demonstration Clubs of the north end of the county are asked to furnish cakes. All Home Demonstration Clubs are urged to attend. Proceeds will be used for the Educational Tour which will be made of the Ozarks during the week of August 28 - September 1.

Melrose

The Melrose Home Demonstration Club met at Fair Park for their July meeting. The president opened the meeting. The creed was repeated by the group and the devotional was given by Mrs. Willie Beard.

The old and new business was discussed. The plans for the tour were given and those who wanted to go turned in their names.

Mrs. Otha Roberts gave some helpful ideas on cleaning and adjusting sewing machines. The rest of the meeting was spent in planning a community picnic to be held in August.

The hostess Mrs. Beard, served refreshments to eight members.

Shover Springs

Shover Springs 4-H club met Saturday morning, July 22, with method demonstrations given by James Robert Fuller and Mary Ann England highlighting the program.

Twelve 4-H Club members with Mrs. Joe England, the club's local leader, saw Mary Ann England give a method demonstration in preparing peas for the home freezer.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Fuller of Shover Springs, gave a demonstration in the value of organic matter in the soil for increasing crop yields and conserving moisture.

Edna Earle England, recreational leader of Shover Springs 4-H Club, led the group in various games as the organized recreation phase of the program.

Sweet Home

The Sweet Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. M.H. Montgomery. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Zack Stone.

The devotional, John 14: 1-7, was read by Mrs. Montgomery, followed by the group repeating the Lord's Prayer. The roll call was answered with, "My favorite piece of sewing equipment."

During the business session, the club voted to donate a bond to the American Legion at Blevins. Mrs. B. J. Warnken gave a short talk on the council meeting and cake walk for the north end of the county to be at the Experiment Station on Friday night, July 28, attend and bring a cake or pie. Each member that plans to make the tour must send in their name by August 1st.

The hostess served cake and drinks to nine members. The meeting adjourned to meet at Bradford Crossing on August 18 for a community picnic to bring a lunch and spend the day.

Baker

The July meeting of the Baker Home Demonstration Club was held at the home of Mrs. Dale Tonnemaker. Mrs. T. B. Fenwick, Sr., president called the meeting to order. The Home Demonstration Woman's Creed was repeated, and the group sang "Hanging the Paper on the Wall". Mrs. Tonnemaker gave the devotional and Mrs. Fenwick led in prayer. Each member answered the roll call by telling what piece of sewing equipment she liked to use best.

Minutes of the preceding meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. W. White, and approved. During the business session a discussion was held on the family picnic for the second Friday in August. Two members of the Baker Home Demonstration Club plan to go on the tour. An interesting and helpful demonstration on cleaning and oiling sewing machines was given by Mrs. Orville Steadman.

During the recreation period Mrs. J. L. McCullough led the group in as tourists wind up staying as investors in the state," he said. "One of our chief objectives is to continue to sell Arkansas to the rest of the country."

In continuing with his program the governor said there would be no recommitments or reprisals of any person or any area or county because of the way they voted in Tuesday's Democratic primary in which McMath was renominated. "I will continue to try to be the governor for all the people," he said.

DOROTHY DIX A Room of His Own

Dear Miss Dix: Before marrying twelve years ago I had about ten years of bachelorhood, during which time certain habits of freedom and self-determination became pretty well fastened. The restrictions upon these which came with wedded life were at first hard to take, but I finally accepted them as inevitable. During recent years, my work has taken me away from home for months at a time. These seasons of living my life as I wish, particularly the control of my rooming conditions and being able to have my clothes and belongings about me as I wish, have been so pleasant that it has set me to wondering why a measure of this comfort might not be feasible for a man in his own home. Consequently I have suggested certain changes in our home to my wife, to which she objects for no reason that I can see, except that it interferes with her supreme authority. I don't know what will come of it, but hope for some satisfactory solution.

T. M. C.
Answer: Wives are always asking how they can hold their husbands and keep them nailed to their own firesides, and I think that your letter offers a new and workable plan for solving this difficult problem. Moreover, it is a suggestion from the masculine point of view and it is one that wives have not tried, and that is giving a man a room of his own.

Decorated His Way
I mean his very own. A room he can paper as he pleases, furnish according to his taste and his idea of comfort, decorate as he chooses, and in which he can assemble all of the junk that he has gathered together and for which he has such an incomprehensible affection. And let no woman ever cross its threshold, not even to clean it up. Probably no wife will ever rise to the heights of doing this. Even if she is just enough to concede him a room of his own, she will pay herself for her nobility of fixing him up a den according to her own ideas and without any reference to his.

I believe that most husbands would be almost tearfully grateful for a room of their own, to which they could retire when feminine chatter began to get on their nerves and they felt that the children's quarrels would drive them to drink. For deep-down within all of us there is a desire for some little spot that we can call our own, that belongs exclusively to us, where we can surround ourselves with our little gods that no alien hand ever touches, and where we can rest and invite our souls. Few men ever possess this luxury.

Dear Miss Dix: I am happily married to a splendid man, or I would be happily married if it were not for my jealousy of his first wife. I am obsessed by the feeling that perhaps he does not love me as much as he loves her, and when he talks about her I get so greeneyed that I am fairly crazy and sometimes refuse to talk to him for days. Do you think I am measured by being jealous over a dead wife?

MRS. H.
Answer: I think that any woman who has no rival nearer than the cemetery should be down on her knees thanking heaven for her luck. Instead of working herself up into a jealous frenzy. It is the live siren's wife has cause to worry over, not the dead ones.

Certainly a wife is going out of her way to hunt for trouble, who ruins what would otherwise be a happy marriage by resenting the affection that her husband gave his first wife. That is water that has passed over the mill. That is something that is gone and done, and nothing in the world can alter it, or change it, or bring it back, and if you have any intelligence whatever you will just accept it that way and forget it.

No doubt your husband did love his first wife. Probably his love for her was more romantic, more filled with dreams than his love for you, because it was the love of his youth. But while a boy's love may be more poetic than a grown man's, the mature man's goes deeper, is tendered and more lasting. So you need not feel that you have the worst of the bargain. In reality, you have the best.

Dear Miss Dix: My mother is a bad woman. She runs around with men and my father is nearly dead from worry over her conduct. Every one looks down on my sister and me, and thinks we are no good, because our mother is leading measured by being jealous over a dead wife?

BIG BOY that parks like a midget

YOU look at the king-size wheelbase on this strapping Buick ROADMASTER.

You look at those long Buick-tapered fenders sweeping from bumper to "double bubble" tail beacon.

You step inside and luxuriate in legroom and hiproom and headroom generous as old-time hospitality.

You ride it—and wonder if wings were ever so soft.

You feel that big bonnetful of Fireball power whisk you from standing start to road speed with the honeyed magic of Dynaflow Drive.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) soaks up repair cuts—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

And you tell yourself this is entirely too perfect.

All this automobile must be hard to handle, too big for your garage.

Good sir, just slide over and take this ROADMASTER's wheel.

Pick a curb space you'd ordinarily pass by, and back this Buick into it on your very first try.

Here Buick has done a neat job of reducing overall inches while keeping interior king-size comfort. When you wheel this whopper into your own garage, you'll be tickled pink at the room all around it.

So come on! Head for your Buick dealer's now for a tryout of a Buick ROADMASTER.

You will find it in a selection of body types, in finishes to suit a queen's taste—and at prices to make you wonder why anyone ever pays more.

Control Body in Making on Wages, Prices

Washington, July 27 (AP) — A labor-industry-agriculture committee reported in the making today, to consult with the government on war mobilization.

The committee would discuss policy questions like price and wage controls with W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the national security resources board, who directs the drive to get the home front ready for war.

Symington's office would not comment on the report. But elsewhere it was learned that he had begun sounding out the big organizations of labor, industry, and agriculture.

Organized labor has tentatively agreed upon the names of three persons to submit as labor representatives: William Green of the AFL, Philip Murray of the CIO, and Al Hayes of the International Association of Machinists.

In addition, Symington has invited the unions to choose someone to serve as a full-time official in the NSRB. There was a possibility he would choose two people — an AFL man and a CIO man.

Concerning this, Symington was expected to make an announcement today after a third meeting with a temporary committee of nine labor leaders.

It was this temporary committee that tentatively chose Green, Murray, and Hayes to consult with Symington on policy.

The temporary committee is composed of three AFL men, three CIO men, and one each from the machinists, united mine workers, and railroad unions. It is not a policy-making committee, and so far it has talked with Symington mainly about the best ways to give representation to labor on agencies that will be involved in war mobilization.

Karenina Hooks Celebrated Birthday

Karenina "Suzie" Hooks celebrated her ninth birthday Monday afternoon with a theater party.

Following the movies the party went to the Hooks home where they were invited to the dining room and seated at the table which was beautifully decorated in pink and white. Centering the table were pink and white gladioli. Also gracing the table was the lovely embossed birthday cake with candles which was covered in pink and white crepe paper, topped with a large pink bow, ribbon streamers attached to the favors extended each place.

After "Suzie" had blown out the candles, and cut the cake, Ice cream cake and punch was served to the following guests: Mary Jewell Herring, Carolyn Andrews, De-Ann Escarre, Marion Buchanan, Judy Meadows, Bonnie Elgin, Virginia Clare Cruse and the honoree Mrs. Hooks was assisted by Mrs. Edgar Andrews.

Radio, Not Television Is Culprit

By GAYLE TALBOT
(For Hugh Fullerton Jr.)

New York, July 27 (AP) — Television isn't the culprit, says President Ford Frick, of the National league. It's that old-timer—radio.

The recent glamor from minor league officials that they are getting their brains beaten out by the home movies of big league contests has caused Frick to make an urgent study of the situation. He "absolves" television of any blame for the "minors' plight."

"Those fellows simply have gotten television confused with radio," he declares. "There isn't enough television of big league games in their territories to hurt them at the box office. There are no television hook-ups of our games."

"But radio, that's different. The whole country is absolutely saturated with it. I'm really surprised that the sponsors haven't gotten wise and complained. I think they will yet."

"Why, there are stations out west which begin broadcasting play-by-play of big league games at 10 in the morning, and then, when one game is over, start in almost immediately on a night game."

"Hundreds of stations, big and little have hopped on the band wagon this season since they got the green light from Washington. Of course that's going to hurt minor league attendance. I'm not making a fight against radio, understand, but I know when we've got too much of it."

So much for the minors and their problems. What of the majors? Had he reached any conclusion as to television's effect on the turnstiles in his own league? An Associated Press survey several days ago showed that 14 of the 16 big league clubs were losing their home attendance records of 1949.

"Frankly, I haven't been able to reach any decision yet," Frick confessed. "We're continuing to make an exhaustive study, canvassing thousands of set owners in our cities to try to find whether television is keeping them away from the parks or, on the other hand, is winning us new fans."

"We have stacks and stacks of reports and thousands and thousands of figures. It is a terrific statistical job to try to find what they prove, if anything. I only hope I will be in position to make a report by the time of the next big league meetings in the fall."

"Actually, despite your figures which show us to be more than a half-million behind in paid attendance from a year ago, I'm not sure we will be anywhere near that far behind when the season ends. We had an awful lot of bad weather in the spring and have quite a few games to make up. Good doubleheader or two might make a big difference to several of our clubs."

The fact that Pittsburgh, the only National league team whose home games are not televised, is leading the league in attendance, does not impress Frick too greatly.

"Can't draw any certain conclusion from that," he cautioned. "A couple of clubs which do televise are very close to the Pirates, might pass them any day."

Big Boys Disagree On Rearming

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 27 —(AP)—Three men — President Truman, Senator Taft, and Bernard Baruch — have different ideas on what we must do in rearming.

Mr. Truman has asked congress for some — but not all out—government controls. Senator Taft thinks Mr. Truman is going too far. Baruch doesn't think the President is going far enough.

Mr. Truman and Senator Taft are hoping things won't get worse — at least soon. Baruch wants to take no chances on things getting better. He wants the country fully prepared and mobilized to meet the worst.

Time will show which is right. This country's fate may depend on the answer. No one here can predict it. That's because we can't call the shots. The Communists can. They can make things better or worse.

Mr. Truman has asked congress to give the government power to do these things:

Raise taxes control credit buying — which means buying things on time, whether they're homes or autos and grant wide controls over business and industry.

For example: If it needed steel for tanks, the government could say just how much would be left for industry to turn out passenger cars.

The President stopped there. He didn't ask for controls over prices and wages or for power to ration goods and food. He said, though, he'd ask for them if he thought it necessary. He doesn't think they're needed now.

The President's feelings may be summed up in the following statement he made to congress yesterday:

"The world responsibilities of the United States... Will become still heavier before the united efforts of the free nations of the world produce a lasting peace."

Taft said that so far as we can see our present situation may "exist for 10 years" and we may as well get adjusted to that idea, but he added: "I am not at all confident that the Russians contemplate an all-out military attack at any time, or that there is any certainty of a Third World War."

Although he agrees with the President on the need to raise taxes, Taft goes only part of the way in thinking Mr. Truman ought to have all the control over credit he asked for.

For example: Taft is opposed to giving Mr. Truman specific control over credit in real estate deals.

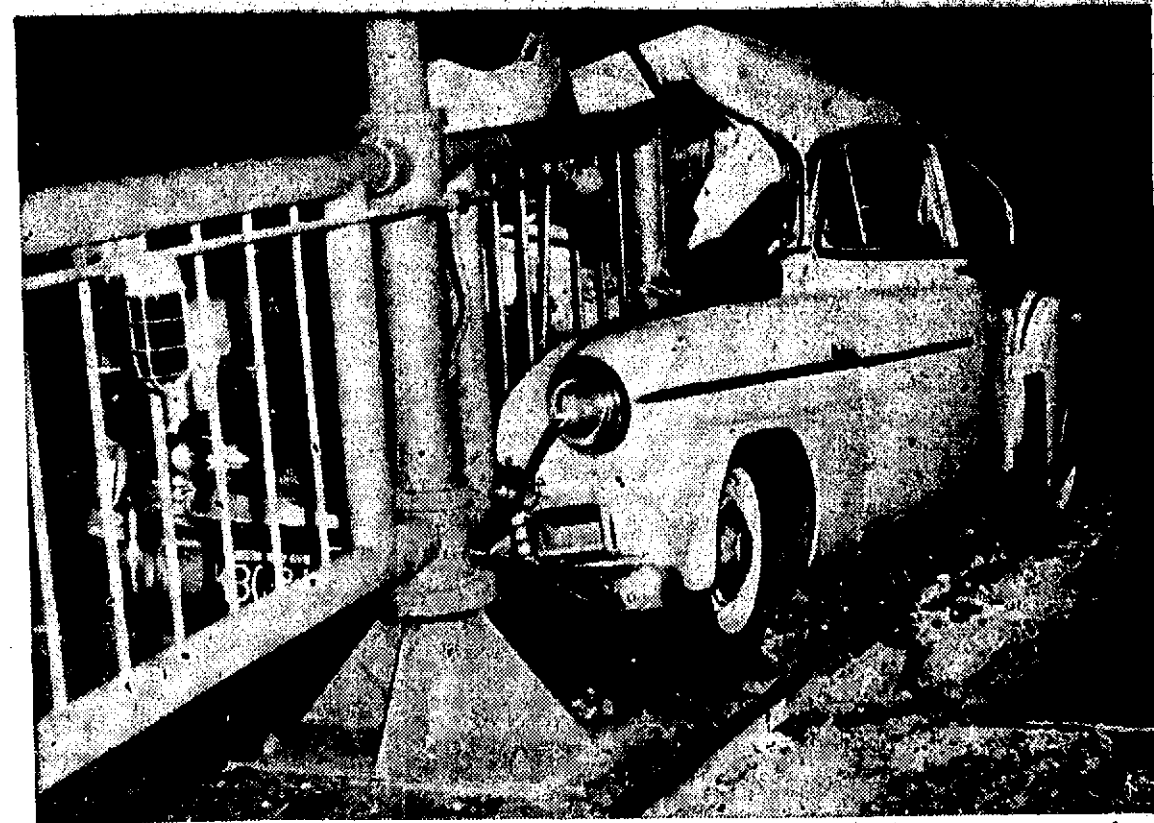

And as for the general controls Mr. Truman wants over business and industry, Taft says they go much too far and are "arbitrary and dictatorial."

Baruch, who has been an economic adviser to several presidents, wants all-out government controls at once, including controls on prices, wages and rents. He said:

"I propose that we organize ourselves — all our resources of men, money, materials, and morale — so that whatever happens — new aggressions abroad, possible destruction at home — whatever happens, the armed forces can get what they need, when they need it, with the least necessary dislocation of the civilians."

"It is the choice of 'peace' or 'butter,' of mobilizing our strength now, while peace can still be saved, or of clinging to petty wants and petty profits, imperiling our freedom and our civilization."

Sir Isaac Newton proposed a steam jet-propelled vehicle in the 17th century.

SCRAPE WITH DEATH—This new sedan was virtually split through the middle in an early-morning crash into the end of a drawbridge gate at Cambridge, Mass. The driver, Thomas Bohan, escaped death by inches, suffering only a broken shoulder. Passersby pulled him from the wreck.

A. & P. Will Resist Price Increases

New York, July 24 — The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, largest leading food distributor, moved against inflation today by pledging to "resist all unwarranted price rises with all our might."

The pledge was contained in one of the rare public statements issued by John A. Hartford, Chairman of the 91-year-old food chain, who said that A&P "Will cooperate unhesitatingly with our National Government in the present crises."

"We will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers," he said, "because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers or consumers, will cause higher prices."

"We will continue to maintain the lowest profit rate generally prevailing in the entire industry. Our net profit now is less than one cent on each dollar of sales." The current profit rate cited by Mr. Hartford was even lower than the profit of 1.15 per cent of consolidated net sales reported by the company for the fiscal year ended Feb. 28, 1950.

Mr. Hartford said a full statement of the company's policy in the current national emergency is appearing over his signature in nationwide newspaper advertisements.

U. S. War Potential 'Very High'

Washington, July 26 —(AP)— Secretary of Defense Johnson said today this country's overall fighting "potential was greater at the outbreak of the Korean war than at any time since American de-ments. In today's statement, Mr. Hartford pledged A&P to continue to strive for more efficient distribution and to fight any waste of food, time or money so as to narrow the spread between wholesale and retail prices.

"With our boys fighting in Korea," he said, "we believe that all citizens and all businesses, big and little, should devote themselves wholeheartedly to the public interest."

Mr. Hartford said he was mindful that the company's policy of low cost and low profit in the mass distribution of quality food currently was under attack in a suit brought by the Anti-Trust Lawyers to destroy A&P. But, he emphasized, the "Greater conflict in which our country is now engaged takes precedence over all else."

"We will strive always to do what is honest, fair, sincere and in the best interest of our country and our customers," he said, "And we promise that we will continue to do everything in our power to put more buying power in the consumer's food dollar, and more good food on the family dinner table."

mobilized after World War II. Striking back at his critics, Johnson added:

"Between March, 1948, and June, 1950, the actual manpower strength of the army's mobile striking force in the continental United States has increased by 165 per cent."

Johnson's insistence on the tight condition of the army, navy and air force was contained in a statement prepared for a Senate appropriations subcommittee considering President Truman's request for $10,000,000,000 to augment the fighting in Korea and augment defense for the home front. The hearing had been scheduled as a closed-door affair but Johnson handed out in advance of the appearance copies of his testimony. In it he stressed such points:

1. This "is not a call for mobilization. It is a call to increase our strength in being in order to enable us to support the United Nations action in Korea and to build up our strength elsewhere to

A Pledge to the American People by The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We will resist all unwarranted price rises with all our might.

We will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers, because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers or consumers, will cause higher prices.

We will continue to maintain the lowest profit rate generally prevailing in the entire retail industry. Our net profit now is less than one cent on each dollar of sales.

We will continue to strive for more efficient distribution.

We will fight waste of food, or time, or money all along the line so as to narrow the spread between wholesale and retail prices.

We will devote all our energies to giving you the most good food for your money every day of the week.

We will strive always to do what is honest, fair, sincere and in the best interest of our country and our customers.

As most of you know, this company and the low cost, low profit policies that built it are under attack.

We are defending ourselves against a suit brought by the anti-trust lawyers to put A&P out of business.

But the greater conflict in which our country is now engaged takes precedence over all else.

Today, with our boys fighting in Korea, we believe that all citizens and all businesses, big and little, should devote themselves wholeheartedly to the public interest.

We promise the American people that we will cooperate unhesitatingly with our national government in the present crisis.

We promise you that we will continue to do everything in our power to put more buying power in your food dollar and more good food on your dinner table.
